

Project 6-2: Using the Online Security Bulletins

Step 3 - Is this information helpful to understanding a vulnerability? Briefly support your answer.

Yes, because it shows you everything that was updated into the system.

Step 4 - How helpful is the information in the popout window?

To me it was very helpful because it shows you everything such as the dates it was uploaded.

Step 7 - What dates did you use to expand the results? (Include the From and To dates)

January 14, 2025 - January 29th 2025

Step 8 - Is the information contained in the Release Notes helpful?

Yes

Step 11 - Compare the Apple list with the Microsoft list.

I Noticed that the Apple one is mostly Iphone software updates and the Microsoft one is mostly windows updates.

Step 13 - Identify some of the differences between the two companies. Which provides better information for security professionals?

Like I said in the last question, Apple is mostly software updates to iPhones and Microsoft is mostly updates to Windows. I believe Windows Provides better information and deeper, detailed information about updates. That being said, I think Microsoft provides more information to security professionals.
